WHY INGENAES?

INGENAES is designed to assist partners in Feed the Future countries (www.feedthefuture.gov) to

- Build more robust, gender-responsive, and nutrition-sensitive institutions, projects and programs capable of assessing and responding to the needs of both men and women farmers through extension and advisory services
- Disseminate gender-appropriate and nutrition-enhancing technologies and access to inputs to improve women's agricultural productivity and enhance household nutrition
- Identify, test efficacy, and scale proven mechanisms for delivering improved extension to women farmers
- Apply effective, nutrition-sensitive, extension approaches and tools for engaging both men and women

WHAT WE DO

We work to improve agricultural livelihoods focusing on strengthening extension and advisory services to empower and engage smallholder farmers, male and female.

HOW WE WORK

Action-oriented training, learning exchanges, and mentoring programs promote gender transformative agricultural development and nutrition sensitive agricultural practices.

INGENAES team members work with USAID missions, civil society organizations, farmer organizations, universities, and private sector service providers in Feed The Future countries. We collaborate with agricultural extension, gender, and nutrition experts worldwide.

The Vision

EMPOWERING women to contribute to household incomes

INCREASING productivity and reducing gender gaps in agriculture

IMPROVING nutrition outcomes for farming families
